Students with a documented learning disability of AD/HD are entitled to reasonable accommodations and/or support services under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) Sections 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. To establish whether or not an individual is covered under ADA, documentation should be provided that clearly indicates how the disability results in a substantial functional limitation to learning. In addition to the documentation from a qualified professional, students must also submit the Self-Disclosure and Accommodation Request Form that is available either on the website or from the Learning Center.

The AD/HD Disability Verification Form is provided in order to determine ADA eligibility. This form should be completed by a qualified professional, provide a current diagnosis status, and should include a comprehensive summary of diagnosis (see Guidelines for Documentation of a Learning Disability). Please note that a letter from the diagnosing qualified professional containing the information included in this form is sufficient.
Students with AD/HD and ADD are only eligible for support services based on documentation stating:

1. Verification of diagnosis.
2. Assessment of having a functional limitation in the educational setting.

To be completed by the student:
